FOREIGN-BORN JUST AS GOOD AS CANADIANS.
ASSERTS VISITOR

HAS 30 NATIONALITIES

"If we are going to weave strongly and beautifully, we must take into account all the elements in our population," declared Rev. J. I. McKay, pastor of the Church of All Nations, Toronto, at a meeting of the church on Sunday morning.

"Did you ever hear people say, 'I wish those foreigners would go back to the countries from which they came,'" continued Mr. McKay. "Do we remember that they came in response to our invitation? Our railway companies, our steamship agents, our immigration departments represented Canada as a land flowing with milk and honey.

"We promised them opportunity, friendliness and a friendly welcome. Some of them have received none of these things.

"These foreign people, when you get to know them, are just as fine as our own people."

Mr. McKay told how one Polish man had told him that he was about to be evicted with his family. He had been unable to get help from the welfare agencies.

Mr. McKay told him to go back to one of the welfare agencies and say that if the agency would pay part of one month's rent, the Church of All Nations would pay the rest.

Later, Mr. McKay learned that this man had not gone back to the welfare agency and had been evicted with his family.

"The church refused my help," friends said at a meeting of unemployed men which Mr. McKay attended. "He was tired being shuttled back and forth," said Mr. McKay.

"Four hundred men cursed the church," he said.

"This Polish family slept on the kitchen floor of another unemployed man. The people who opened their door to them were not church people. You and I would probably have called them communists."

Mr. McKay told another story of a Ukrainian who at Sault Ste. Marie was a communist leader and was trying to break up church meetings. Eventually, friendliness turned him into a member of the church and he was sent as a representative to the United Church conference.

"We will get nowhere with these people until we recognize them as equals," said Mr. McKay. "We must ask them to go forward with us as brethren to make Canada Christian."

Difficulties arise between some of the 30 nationalities which belong to the Church of All Nations, said Mr. McKay. Poles and Russians, for instance, find it difficult to get along together. When the church was built 11 years ago it was necessary to construct two side entrances in addition to the main entrance, on the insistence of one group that they couldn't go in the same door as a certain other group. In a few months, however, all groups began to go in the main door and it was possible to lock the side doors permanently.

"Between 3,000 and 4,000 people attend our church," said Mr. McKay. "Services are conducted each Sunday in five different languages. Eleven hundred people get their mail at our post office."

"These people bring from the old lands not merely hatreds, but also wondrous gifts in literature, art, craftsmanship and, yes, in religion."

HOW SO CHEAP NOT WHY SO MUCH - ASKED

MEMBERS OF MR. PURDY'S
CLASS VISIT ERA. STUDY
NEWSPAPER MAKING

EDIT THEIR OWN PAPER

"How can you sell the paper so cheaply?" asked a King George school student after the editors of a class-room newspaper had inspected the Era plant and studied the process of printing a town weekly on Tuesday afternoon of this week.

First they saw the linotypes, watching the little brass matrices (or moulds) fall from the magazine in response to a touch on the keyboard and the molten metal poured a galley of these "mats" to form a line. They saw the little mats automatically return to their correct places in the magazine for use again.

The group spent a good deal of time studying the engravings and stereotypes (copies of engravings) from which pictures are printed. They learned that the stereotypes are, many of them, made in the Era plant from cardboard "mats" received through the mail from advertisers, but that the engravings are made in engraving plants.

The newspaper press was not in operation, but the youngsters saw a few sheets put through the newspaper folder.

While they were principally interested in the newspaper, they paused to watch the automatic job press pick up sheets of paper from an unprinted pile and drop them in another printed pile.

Orla Carson, editor of the Silver Moon, was not present, due to illness. Joan Liscomb, the assistant editor, was at the head of the group.

Others in the party, making up the staff of the Silver Moon, were Irene Farren, poems; Harold Smart, current events; Jean Binns, stories; Allan Woodward, animal; John Peterson, fashions; Lowell Palmer, believe it or not; Beverly Rowntree, sports; Betty Wright, contests; Blanche Breen, jokes and riddles; Wayne Manning, radio log; Dorothy Lee, cover. They belong to John Purdy's class.

The Toronto Centre North Young People's Union presbytery is holding their annual convention on Tuesday, May 2, in Keswick United Church. The meeting will start sharp at 7:30 o'clock. The main features of the evening are the presentation of the winning drama of the biblical drama festival by Ravenshoe entitled, "The Terrible Meek," and the installation of the new presbytery executive for the coming year. Rev. Mr. Messer of Schomberg will give a short inspirational talk and will conduct the installation service. There will also be reports of the year's work.

Lunch will be served at the close.

DRUG STORES WILL BE OPEN UNTIL 10 P.M.

The drug stores will stay open until 10 p.m. every night during daylight saving.

ANSNOVELD CUT OFF BY MUDDY ROADS

The little Dutch settlement of Ansnoelvd, on the Holland Marsh, was facing a shortage of food and supplies this week owing to the mud-bogged conditions of the roads leading into the settlement.

Mrs. A. Nienhuis, the village storekeeper, said she was out of bread and milk and was running short of sugar and other necessary things.

A truck from Bradford and several trucks from Richmond Hill tried to get into the village, and failed, getting bogged in. There hasn't been a delivery since last Friday, when a Bradford dairy proprietor had to secure a horse and wagon to get through.

DANCE IS CANCELLED

Owing to circumstances beyond their control, the proposed dance for May 5, at the town hall, sponsored by the Newmarket Veterans' Association, has been cancelled.

MRS. FRANK ROBINSON TO HAVE CHARGE OF SATURDAY TAG DAY FOR BLIND FOLK

"One of the difficulties confronted by blind people is that of having someone to read to them," Mrs. Frank Robinson, in charge of the tag day being held in Newmarket next Saturday by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind told The Era this week.

As blindness is a condition which comes more often in adult life than youth, the great majority of blind people have received all the schooling they ever get before losing their sight. Younger blind people learn "Braille," the system of finger-reading, and although some of the adults master this system, they do not become, as a general rule, very expert at it. As a consequence, only about one out of every seven or eight blind people are proficient at Braille. Those who have not learned the system or are incapable of learning it have had to depend in former years, on the kindness of friends and relatives for their reading matter.

Now, if a blind man or woman is in a position to purchase a "Talking Book" machine, there is no need for dependence on friends, for the talking book is a reading machine, designed for the use of the blind. It is, in reality, a phonograph, but instead of playing dance music or symphonies, it reads books and plays. When first developed the records played such a short time that it would have required a great stack of them to record an ordinary novel, and the listener would have had to change the record every few minutes. The cost of the number of records required made the proposal prohibitive. But now records can be so finely engraved that from seven to nine thousand words can be recorded on one side of a 12-inch disc. This means that a full-length novel can be recorded on from ten to 20 records. To play these records it is necessary to have a very slow-revolving turntable so that the ordinary gramophone is useless, which means that a specially designed machine is required.

The depot in Canada for the distribution of this new type of reading matter is the library of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Toronto.

The handling of the talking book business is one of the many services provided for the Canadian blind by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The service, of course, costs money. That is supplied by public contributions to the general funds of the Institute. On Saturday, April 29, the citizens of Newmarket will have an opportunity to shoulder a portion of the cost of the essential services available to blind people through the Institute, when the tag day will be held.

PROMPT AID OF MEDICAL NEIGHBOR TURNS TIDE IN FAVOR OF ADVENTURESOME BOBBIE

Master Bobbie Edwards, two-and-a-half-year-old go-getting son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, had a narrow escape from possible serious illness on Friday.

Looking for something to amuse himself, Bobbie found a bottle of tablets and ate a quantity of them before he was discovered. Dr. Edwards was away at the time and Mrs.

CROWDS ENJOY DISPLAY

The high school was a busy place on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week, when large crowds enjoyed the "Open Nights."

The first part of a full evening of splendid entertainment took place in the gymnasium and gave evidence of the real athletic prowess of the students. All kinds of folk dancing and gymnastic work were displayed by the girls and boys.

Aubrey Bailey's orchestra played orchestral selections. The program in the gym opened with well executed Danish exercises by the lower school boys, which were followed by two attractive dances, the Danish Schottische and Varsovienne, by girls of 1A and 1B.

Apparatus work by the boys revealed some high class athletic ability and was highly interesting and at times breath-taking to the large gathering of spectators. The overhead bar, horizontal bar and the horse were all kept busy by the gymnasts.

A girls' tumbling team showed some very good work by the fair sex and a girls' "Gym Table," a number of exercises to music, was done extremely well and with remarkable precision. Following this a boys' mat team exhibited some splendid tumbling and provided the audience with more thrills.

The concluding number in the gym was a time dance, "Stephanie Gavotte," done by a group of senior girls in charming old-fashioned costumes, the ladies wearing dresses with huge hoop skirts, and those taking the gentlemen's parts resplendent in satin coats, powdered wigs and knee breeches. The dance, which was very gracefully executed, was accompanied by Aubrey Bailey's orchestra and the lighting was effectively done.

Miss Kathleen Stewart, instructor of the girls, and Harry Westbrook, teacher of the boys' gym work, are to be congratulated on the fine performance.

Following a short intermission, the program was resumed in the auditorium of the school. The opening number was a delightful musical tableau, "Rendez-Vous," by W. Aletter. Jeanne Robertson sang the solo part very charmingly, accompanied skillfully on the piano by Mary Margaret Webb.

The other acts that were presented were: Anne Rogers as the shepherdess, Helen Nesbitt as the shepherdess and Joyce Rothwell as Cupid.

Then followed a presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's popular "H. M. S. Pinafore," by students of 1C and 1D. Lois Geer, as the portly and elegant Sir Joseph Porter, delighted the audience both with her voice and her acting.

Dorothy Pipper made a charming Josephine, the gallant captain's daughter, in love with Ralph, the humble sailor, but courted by the high and mighty Sir Joseph, while Herbert Elmes was a handsome and romantic tar as Ralph Rackstraw.

220TH ARE GUESTS OF AUBREY DAVIS

Surviving members of the 220th battalion, York Rangers, were guests of Aubrey Davis, president of the Davis Leather Co., at a dinner in Toronto on Saturday night.

Those attending from Newmarket besides Capt. Davis, included Fred Hoare, L. P. Conn, E. A. Sanson, Joseph O'Donnell and A. W. Brenner.

The guest speaker, Rex Frost, gave an account of his recent trip through Europe. Other speakers were Capt. Davis, Capt. Sidney Lambert, Col. B. H. Brown and Battalion Sergeant-Major Charles Field.

Entertainers were a ventriloquist, a soloist and a magician. One hundred and fifty were present.

Capt. Davis invited the company to be his guests again next year. The date chosen for the event is the nearest Saturday to April 24, the day in 1917 when the battalion sailed for overseas.

JOE SPILLETTE NAMED
PRESIDENT OF SIMCOE
SOFTBALL LEAGUE

TALK OF JUNIOR TEAM

Pro hockey players, and for Newmarket that means Larry Molyneaux and Herb Cain, will be able to play with Simcoe softball teams this year, as a result of a motion passed by the Simcoe association at a meeting at Allandale on Monday evening.

J. L. Spillette of Newmarket was elected president, and he will be calling a meeting shortly to draw up the schedule.

At the moment it looks as though Richmond Hill will be in the southern group with a smart club than last year. Aurora will be back with two new faces from King City. There is a possibility of Churchill amalgamating with Fennell's Corners to make a team under the latter name.

Schomberg is yet to be heard from.

Rumor has it that there may be a junior team from Newmarket too, if a league can be found for them, possibly the Lake Simcoe league.

TENNIS CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

A meeting of the Newmarket tennis club is being held tonight, at 8 p.m., in the offices of Mathews, Lyons and Vale, 100 Main St. All members or prospective members are invited to attend this meeting so that plans may be made for the coming season.

MAYBE NEWMARKET WILL GO JUNIOR

As a result of a hockey club executive meeting held on Monday evening, with President Charles Holmes in the chair, the rumor is now going about that fans will see a smart junior club in Newmarket next winter.

It is understood that the juveniles, successfully launched this year, will be on the local ice again next winter. As to whether there would be an intermediate team as well as junior and juvenile teams, there doesn't seem to be any available dope.

Horseback Preacher Had Good Congregation Here

REV. ADAM ELLIOT USED TO COVER THIS DISTRICT
CENTURY AGO

The diary of Rev. Adam Elliot is clear proof that missionaries did not have to go to Africa or the Orient to undergo hardships.

More than 100 years ago, Elliot spent three years on horseback as a home district travelling missionary in Upper Canada. His district ranged from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay and from Bowmanville to near Oakville. Elliot represented a Church of England mission organization. The centenary of the diocese is being celebrated this year.

On Sunday, Feb. 16, 1834, Elliot wrote in his diary, "I officiated to a numerous and attentive congregation at Newmarket, two children were baptized. On the Tuesday evening following I read prayers and preached in the same place to a respectable assemblage of people, and administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper to 12 persons."

"Having arrived at the township of Georgina," he wrote in his diary, "I officiated there at two different places on Sunday the 18th of April, 1834 to a numerous and attentive congregation and baptized four children."

In June, 1834, Elliot wrote: "On the following Tuesday I continued my journey to Georgina, and visited some of the inhabitants."

COUNCILLOR DIXON IS MAKING PROGRESS

Friends are glad to learn that Councillor Dixon is making rapid recovery from his recent illness and has been allowed downstairs but it may be several weeks yet before he can return to business.

On Friday, the 27th, I read prayers and lectured on the sixth concession of that township to about thirty people and baptized three children. On the Sunday following I officiated at two different places in Georgina, but the weather being extremely unfavorable, the congregation was comparatively small. The next day I passed on to North Gwillimbury and thence across the lake in the steamboat to the village at the narrows."

"On the 13th, (August, 1834), I returned to Barrie, and preached in the evening to a congregation consisting of about 60 people. The next day I returned in the steamboat to North Gwillimbury, and read prayers and preached to the inhabitants on the following Sunday. While in that neighborhood I was indisposed for some days, but was very kindly treated at the hospital of Mr. Smally. On Wednesday, the 20th, I proceeded to West Gwillimbury, and explained a portion of scripture to a few people in the evening, at the house of Mr. W. Stoddard." (Wm. Stoddard was the grandfather of Mrs. W. R. Armstrong, Armistage.)

Appeal For Funds Made By Salvation Army Canvassers

LOW OVERHEAD, LONG EXPERIENCE CLAIMED BY ARMY WORKERS

The Salvation Army will begin its annual "self-denial" appeal on the first of May, with a house-to-house canvass for funds, and an objective of $500.

To those interested in charity, the Army offers many advantages, a Salvation Army bulletin points out. Overhead is kept at a minimum, and thousands of Army people act as collectors and organizers without any remuneration whatever.

The Army's long experience with all grades of poverty and want, and its consequent keen understanding of human nature, places it at an advantage in dealing with this great problem, it is stated.

The work of the social service of the Army does not overlap with governmental or other service, but it is an actual necessity, it is claimed. Chances may be made out to the Salvation Army, and sent to Box 383, Newmarket, or to Army canvassers.

Handsome New Cup Bears Name Similar To Era's Cup

BEST VILLAGE WEEKLY WILL RECEIVE AWARD AT OTTAWA FRIDAY

Joseph E. Atkinson, president of the Ontario Star, was presented to the Ontario-Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association a handsome silver trophy for annual competition.

It will be known as the Joseph T. Clark Memorial Trophy and is to be awarded to the best all-around weekly published in an Ontario or Quebec town or village of 1,500 or less population.

To save confusion, it should be stated that this is not the Charles Clark Cup presented to the parent association by Charles Clark of the High River Alberta Times, and now held, for the third time in four years, by The Era. The Charles Clark Cup is for domination competition among weeklies of less than 2,000 circulation.

The new Ontario-Quebec trophy commemorates the late Joseph Clark, former editor of the Toronto Star, and father of the famous Gregory. It will be awarded for the first time in Ottawa on Friday when the annual Ontario-Quebec convention takes place. The Charles Clark Cup will be awarded again at Niagara Falls in midsummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hebb are representing The Era at the convention. Mr. Hebb is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Prince Edward Was Visitor In Village 80 Years Ago

LAVISH DECORATIONS
MARKED PRINCE'S VISIT
IN THE LONG AGO

The approaching visit of their majesties the king and queen to Toronto recalls the visit to Newmarket and Aurora on Monday, Sept. 10, 1860, of Albert Edward, Prince of Wales.

Prince Edward was travelling by railway. The Era files say: "A grand arch of Roman architecture was erected over the railway track, at the crossing on Water St., beautifully covered with evergreens, from the top of which floated the royal ensign, and numerous banners. On the south side was the motto—'Welcome to Newmarket,' and on the north—'Albert Edward, God direct him.' From the centre of the side arches or pillars of the main span stood small spruce trees, beautifully ornamented with flowers. On the central flag was a large crown surrounded by a wreath of maple leaves."

The account goes on to tell how the news presented an address to the prince, and how the prince held a levee, for the introduction to him of the "leading citizens."

Another report in The Era tells that the royal train stopped for 15 minutes at Aurora, and "the decorations of arches at Aurora were on an extensive scale, and the display equal to that of Newmarket, if not superior."

STANLEY BALDWIN SAYS

Earl Baldwin's second Sir Robert Falconer lecture will undoubtedly play a considerable part in settlement of the attitude of the University of Toronto toward its independent-thinking professors. May we quote?

"Are we confident that there is no danger of attempts at some form of democratic totalitarianism? Does not that danger, which at first thought seems fantastic, seem less fantastic when you realize the danger of the mass mind, fostered as it is by modern invention and the ingenuity of man?"

"Are we really conscious of the trend of the modern industrial system, with its alternating periods of feverish activity followed by the throwing out of armies of workmen into unemployment and despair?"

"We know that until international trade functions again it is a problem that can only be mitigated, and we know that international trade can never be restored as we would see it so long as great nations are wasting their substance on armaments instead of goods for use."

"But are we alive and eager to tackle this problem, and are we sure that, if we do not, the advent of the totalitarian democracy may not be nearer than we think."

"The university is indeed an epitome of true democracy. Merit alone is the hallmark and freedom—ordered freedom—is its birthright."

"But let us not forget that the wealthy men and the state are honored by being allowed to take part in the sacred work of education and, while their contributions are received with sincere gratitude, nothing gives a right either to the wealthy man or the state to interfere in any way with the freedom of the university itself. It must always be its own master, responsible to its conscience and sound tradition for what it teaches and how it teaches."

GIBRALTAR IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Gibraltar is being mentioned in the press with increasing frequency. Gibraltar has for long been a synonym for strength. "As strong as Gibraltar," people sometimes say. Should there be a war in which Italy and Britain were on different sides, Gibraltar would be of considerable strategic importance. Gibraltar hardly commands the straits of Gibraltar but is sufficiently close, it is apparent from a glance at a map, to be invaluable as a naval base to Britain in any attempt to control the western entrance to the Mediterranean. If Spain were allied with Italy, as is said to be a possibility, perhaps Spain would be able to mount along the straits guns which would prevent British battleships from moving freely through this passage, which is 36 miles long and varies in width from 15 to 24 miles. But we know nothing of the ground, and little of the relative strength of guns on British battleships and land guns which would be available to Spain. Consequently, we wouldn't want to offer an opinion for criticism by the military correspondent of the London Times.

What It's Like

The history and description of the fortress of Gibraltar, however, may be read by anyone who is interested. In the press the other day we read that Britain is busy erecting barricades along the "neutral ground" lying between the fortress and the Spanish mainland. Gibraltar is a peninsula and this "neutral ground," we find, is a low sandy isthmus one and a half miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide. This isthmus is at the north. On the west Gibraltar Bay, four miles wide, lies between Gibraltar and the Spanish town of Algeiras. On this west side, which slopes down to the sea, the town of Gibraltar, of 18,000 population, is situated. At the east and the south there are tremendous precipices and the open sea. The north side of the rock is, according to our authority, almost perpendicular, but barricading of the "neutral ground" to the north indicates that it would be impossible to gain access to or to embarrass Gibraltar from that direction. Gibraltar reaches to 1,400 feet above sea level.

No Town Council

A couple of interesting items about Gibraltar are that it is a free port, with no customs duties on goods inward or outward bound, that the chief export is wine, and yet that the only source of drinking-water is from rainfall. There is no town council. The commander-in-chief runs the show.

British For Two Centuries

In the eighth century the Moors, that Mohammedan mixture of northern Africans and Arabs, crossed the straits and took possession of Spain, and remained in control for 800 years. During the Moorish occupation, even before the Renaissance, art and literature flourished in Spain while most of the rest of Europe was in ignorance and stagnation. Moorish power gradually weakened. Finally in the fifteenth century there remained to the Moors in Spain only the kingdom of Granada. Spanish King Ferdinand of Castile and Aragon took Gibraltar from the Moors in 1462 and subjugated Granada the year he sent Columbus to America.

How Britain Got It

The Spaniards so fortified Gibraltar that it was considered impregnable, but a combined English and Dutch force captured this stronghold in 1704, in the course of the war to decide whether a Frenchman or an Austrian was to occupy the Spanish throne, and Britain became the owner of Gibraltar by one of the various treaties made at Utrecht in 1713. It was one of those wars that nobody won. A Frenchman got the Spanish throne, but France gave Gibraltar (with the compliments of Spain), Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and other points to Britain, and various other powers made various other trades. Tried and Contested Spain and France have both made attempts to regain Gibraltar. The most desperate attempt was made by Spain while Britain was simultaneously engaged in war with the American colonies and with France. The four-year siege was unsuccessful. The question in many minds today is whether Gibraltar would be as impregnable to air attack as it has been in the past to land and sea attack.

The Common Round

PATTERNS
By Isabel Inglis Colville

It all began with two pieces of silk—both dark blue, but on one reposed gay little bouquets of flowers, while the other kept its color intact.

"What are you going to do with these?" queried mother as she held them up to view.

"Combine them and have a new gown," I informed her.

"Are you going to try to make it yourself?" she inquired, with what I thought was a mean emphasis on the word "TRY."

"Why not?" I demanded—well—perhaps a trifle more valiantly than I felt.

"Well," said she, "you know how you are with patterns."

"I'll get the simplest one I can find," I told her, soothingly, and the subject was dropped, and I went off to send for the pattern.

After much cogitation I found one which looked the acme of simplicity and I thought I won't even need advice."

Well the pattern arrived, and this morning, as soon as the house was in order, I produced the materials, the pattern, a paper of pins and a pair of scissors, and mother forsook her mending and came to offer encouragement and to advise discretion.

"Has the material a right and wrong side and do the flowers run in any sort of order?" inquired my parent, remembering a previous masterpiece when my material, being narrow, I had to cut each half of my skirt and waist separately and with dire results, when they came to be fitted together, and resembled nothing so much as a jester's costume.

"Oh, it's quite all right," said I, confidently, proceeding to lay a piece of filmy paper, that looked like nothing but the map of England, on my material.

"What on earth's that long thing in front for?" asked the bewildered lady, who was admiring—well perhaps not exactly that—my efforts.

"How should I know?" I asked her.

"Put your waist pattern to—"

"How can I?" I wanted to know. "You can see for yourself nothing matches."

"Oh, for the eyes of a few years ago," said mother despairingly—"that's all wrong and as far as I can tell you've gotten a pattern that would tax a Worth or a Pacquin."

"How was I to know—I looked simple enough—I couldn't tell there'd be all these tucks and darts and things," said I, as the pattern dangled in front of me, to the evident amusement of Cappy, who was busily performing a sort of dance in some other parts, which I, in my despair, had swept off the table.

"Look at this," I told her, after pinning what I thought was the proper parts of half the waist together—"It looks sort of queer, doesn't it?"

Mother took one look at the result—"queer?" she said—"QUEER! It's like nothing on earth. Let's put it on Cappy, her face would just come through what I suppose you call the arm-hole."

So Cappy, purring louder than you would think a cat could purr, was set on mother's knee and invested with the rustling paper garment, from the opening of which her small, calico patterned face peeped out implisly.

"Now," said mother judiciously, as she cuddled the ecstatically purring kitten, "what are you going to do about it?"

"Maybe," said I, "if we put it away for a few days, our ideas would sort themselves out."

"But there must be things you haven't read out to me," said mother, perplexedly.

"Of course," said I, "there's a whole page."

Mother gave me one look—the look of an offended duchess, then setting Cappy firmly on the floor, she resumed her mending.

"I didn't think all those little instructions were important," said I, trying to throw the somewhat frozen atmosphere.

"Important!" said my parent, scornfully. "THEY are the most important directions, anyway I won't look at it again today."

"Neither will I," I told her joyfully.

On a similar charge he was remanded for sentence.

A charge of making a bad left-hand turn laid against Alan Steiner, Toronto, was dismissed by the magistrate but Steiner was ordered to pay the court costs of $4. Defence counsel was E. A. Richardson, Toronto.

"I was proceeding north on Yonge St. when I came into a collision with another car," stated John Saso, Barrie. "When I was approaching the Mulock side-road I saw another car ahead of me about 100 feet. My speed at this time was between 40 and 45 m.p.h. The other car was driving a little slower than I was and as I started to pass him on the left hand side of the road he turned left to go into the side-road and turned toward me. We both turned out at the same time. The other driver gave no signal that he intended to make the turn. I tried to miss the other car and I tried to get into the side-road to miss him but I was going too fast, so the cars collided. My car was damaged in the impact."

"What kind of a car do you drive?" asked Mr. Richardson.

"A Buick 1938 coupe," answered Mr. Saso.

"It is a powerful car, isn't it?" "Yes."

"Would you be surprised to know that you passed a car driving at 50 m.p.h. and they estimated your speed at 75 m.p.h.?"

"I have been driving several years and I never drive that fast."

"Did you blow your horn?" "No."

"Was anyone hurt in your car?" "Yes, my wife got her right side hurt on the door handle."

"On my arrival at the scene I found two cars in the guard-rail at the northwest corner of the Mulock intersection," stated Provincial Constable A. O. Ferguson.

"The 1939 Buick car driven by Steiner and the 1938 Buick driven by Mr. Saso were both locked together. The road was dry with the exception of a small pond where the water had run on the road. There were no distinct skid marks on the road but I could see the marks of the two cars in the pool of water. I measured a mark left by the Saso car and it started at the middle of the road and went 30 feet to the edge of the road. The total damage to both the cars was $250."

"Did you estimate the speed of the Saso car as 60 m.p.h.?" asked Mr. Richardson.

"No," answered Constable Ferguson.

"I was going to the ski club down the Mulock side-road and I was driving my father's car," testified Alan Steiner. "I slowed down to 15 or 20 m.p.h. and I looked in the mirror and saw a car about 500 feet back, so I pulled out to the centre of the road and proceeded north as I was not quite sure where the side-road was. I drove on the centre of the road for about 100 or 150 feet. I braked all the way to the corner from where I turned out to the centre. I started to turn in to the side-road and another chap with me said there was a car coming at me and then I was hurled into the guard-rail."

"How many were with you in the car?" asked Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

"There were two others with me and we were all in the front seat," answered Steiner.

Glen Ingram and Ted Eckell, both of Toronto, stated that they were going north on Yonge St. and that the Saso car passed them near St. Andrew's College and that they would estimate the speed between 65 and 70 m.p.h. The two youths said they were the first car to arrive at the accident.

"Steiner gave no evidence he was going to turn out but the Saso car was apparently going too fast," stated Magistrate Woodliffe in dismissing the charge.

A very interesting and instructive address was given by Principal H. A. Jackson on "The New Curriculum in the Public Schools."
The nominating committee presented the new slate of officers for the ensuing year and the following members were chosen: president, Mrs. Frank Hope; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. W. M. Cockburn; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. M. Smith; sec-treas., Miss C. Roadhouse; pianist, Mrs. E. Brammar; press correspondent, Miss Bertha Nelly; district director, Mrs. N. L. Matthews.
A social hour was then enjoyed.

In Memoriam

Cockerill - In loving memory of my wife, Sadie Cockerill, who passed away on April 28, 1937. Oh, what would I give to clasp your hand;
Your dear, kind face to see;
Your loving smile, your welcome voice,
That meant so much to me.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have such can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For the one I loved so well.
Ever remembered by her husband.

Dougan - In loving memory of our dear mother, Margaret Dougan, who passed away April 26, 1937.
What is home without a mother,
What are all the joys we meet,
When her loving smile no longer greets the coming of our feet.
You were very true and patient,
Through the years you struggled on,
And those dear hands now resting
Made a home that now is gone.
Dear mother, we think of you,
And think of how you died.
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes.
To those who have a mother,
Cherish her with care,
There will never be another
To fill her vacant chair.
Sadly missed by family.

Smith - In loving memory of our dear mother, Barbara F. Smith, who passed away April 19, 1938. Yet again we hope to meet thee.
When the day of life has fled,
Then in heaven with joy to greet thee.
Where no farewell tear is shed,
Remembered always by her family.

Windbreakers, Medals, Cup Presented To Hockey Team

JUNIOR "C" CHAMPION- SHIP TROPHY FEATURES BANQUET, DANCE

Aurora's junior hockey team showed that they knew how to celebrate a victory as well as how to earn one, when they sat down to dinner on Thursday night of last week with some 125 of their supporters.

Under the genial chairmanship of Dr. C. R. Boulding, honorary president of the club, a varied program of entertainment, speeches and presentations was carried off with the usual fine display of team-work.

Presentation of the windbreakers was made on behalf of their donors by C. S. Richardson, and an able reply of acceptance was given by Manager Bill West.

Acting-Mayor J. A. Knowles presented members of the team with wrist watches, given on behalf of the town and the club. Coach Charlie Rowntree expressed the thanks of the boys.

Following presentation of the O.H.A. gold medals by W. A. Hewitt, O.H.A. secretary, Ewart Plender, assistant manager, voiced his appreciation, and Team Captain Roy Collins added his thanks. Dr. C. R. Boulding and President Charles Malloy received surprise gifts of gold medals. Beautiful silver medals went to other executive members of the club.

Featuring the presentations was that of the trophy itself, a splendid cup, emblematic of Aurora's junior "C" championship. This was presented by the O.H.A. president, James Douglas, and accepted by Club President Malloy.

Miss Gwendolyn Lambert, Newmarket, added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening with her singing, accompanied by Mrs. C. R. Boulding on the piano. Rod Smith gave some saxophone solos, and Alex. Eves, Newmarket, led the singing, assisted by Pianist Jack Watkins.

The evening concluded with dancing to the music of Max Boag.

COMMUNITY SHOCKED BY ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF BRUCE HARRISON, FOUR-YEAR-OLD CHILD

Tragedy visited Aurora on Friday afternoon when Bruce Harrison, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harrison, Temperance St., was found dead in the pond on Kennedy St. on Thursday afternoon. Bruce would have been five years old in May.

The boy had fallen in the pond and help was summoned by Jimmy Crysdale, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crysdale, Kennedy St. Jimmy called Stanley Anderson, who lives nearby, and Mr. Harrison also came to the scene of the accident.

The two managed to get a little water from the boy's lungs, and Dr. C. J. Devins, J. C. Williams and J. L. Urquhart, who happened to be together at a medical association meeting, worked for more than two hours over the boy before they gave up hope of saving his life.

The doctors are reported to be of the opinion that bits of apple found in the boy's windpipe had resulted in strangulation. The boy had been eating an apple when he stepped into the pond, it is stated.

Dr. C. J. Devins, coroner, stated that an inquest would not be necessary, and the body was released for burial.

There are three other children in the family: two sisters, Grace and Margaret, and a brother, Bobbie. Bruce was a member of the beginning's division of the United church Sunday-school.

The funeral service was conducted from the home on Monday by Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson. Pallbearers were Bill Seaton, Francis Cook, Ronald Crabtree and Douglas Fisher.

GORDON PURCHASE TO ADDRESS CO-OP LADIES

The regular monthly meeting of the Co-operative Ladies' Guild will be held on Monday, May 1, at 8 p.m., in the guild rooms.

Highlights of the evening will be a talk on current events by Mrs. R. Boyd, a solo by Mrs. Lambert Willson and a discussion of co-operation, to be conducted by Gordon Purchase.

Hostesses are Mrs. R. Chapman, Mrs. J. Stuart, Mrs. Glass and Mrs. C. Bilbrough.

CHILDREN CHRISTENED

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gieves, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, Mr. and Mrs. James Beattie, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker, brought children to be christened at the morning service of Aurora United church on Sunday.

YOUNG PEOPLE STAGE "SAUCE FOR BOSLINGS"

With a cleverly-written play, "Sauce for the Gossings," members of the United church Y.P.S. successfully entered the field of amateur dramatics on Tuesday night.

The cast, which, under the direction of Mrs. William Johnston, gave a pleasing performance, included Edith Richards and Robert Hacking, in the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor; Flossie Bilbrough and Tom Raeside as Elizabeth and Don Taylor; Clarence Fisher as James Ward; and Vera Clarke, as Grandmother Lee.

The details of stage management, lighting and settings, were in the charge of Cyril Hamlin. A recitation by Helena Evans, vocal solos by Edith Richards and Robert Turp, and a piano solo by Cyril Hamlin, added to the program.

Another entertaining feature of the evening was the fashion show, directed by Ruth De La Haye. Those taking part included Barbara Walker, Emily Teasdale, Dorothy Richardson, Barbara Gilbert, Annie Dunning, Kay Forrester and Beatrice Rothwell.

Robert Turp, president of the Society, acted as master of ceremonies.

"The Truth"

(The Era has asked for the truth concerning council's handling of the clerkship. This is what we, or rather the Aurora Banner, received. It is signed by three members of council.)

Since an irrelevant issue—a meeting with the hockey club—is mentioned, we invite Councilor Wilson, chairman of the committee concerned—to tell all the facts of this meeting—and through The Era's columns, if he will.)

Demand has been made in the press for the truth about recent changes in the Aurora town clerk's office. It has been insinuated that council has not conducted its business at open meetings.

We have been many loose statements that council made its decisions at "secret meetings," that the press was excluded and that the public has been kept in ignorance of the true facts and council's reasons for making the new appointment.

Inquiry points to the following explanation of The Era's failure to learn of council's meeting on March 27. Mr. Withrow inquired at the town clerk's office as to a meeting that evening. He was informed that there was no council meeting, but only a finance committee meeting. The meeting in question was duly called. Members received the usual three days notice from the town clerk's office advising that the meeting was being held to consider the auditor's report.

If then The Era was misinformed through oversight, inadvertence or a specific intent to keep the auditor's report from the press surely the council is not to blame. Had Mr. Withrow been present at the meeting of March 27, he would doubtless have been able to inform himself of the next special meeting held March 31. His failure to attend these two meetings is in no way the fault of the council and a speedy apology is in order from the person responsible for insinuating that council is trying to conduct its business behind closed doors.

We agree with the editor of the Aurora Era that public servants are entitled to just treatment and should not be hired and fired overnight without a just cause. But we find it impossible to reconcile his present stand with his behavior a few weeks ago, when he was party to a demand to discharge Andrew Closs, a town employee. In this incident, there was no question raised as to Mr. Closs's ability. It was purely a personal quarrel between Mr. Closs and Mr. Withrow. And because Closs, the arena cashier, dared to tell Mr. Withrow where to get off, a special meeting of council was called at which an immoderate demand was made for Mr. Closs's summary dismissal. The threat was made that unless the cashier was fired the hockey team would play its remaining games in Newmarket. Mr. Closs was not discharged, after he stated his case and justified his acts, but Mr. Withrow resigned in a huff as secretary of the hockey club.

Curiously enough, this incident and this special council meeting was not mentioned in the press, although The Era had all the facts. The statement that Mr. Andrews received unfair treatment and that the change in the clerk's office was due to spite or personal grievance was quite false. We have a considerable regard for Mr. Andrews' general ability and integrity. On his own admission, however, he is not an accountant. The auditor's annual report definitely indicates that an accountant is necessary if the town's books and records are to be properly kept in the future. The following excerpts from the auditor's report submitted on March 27 last will throw light on the situation: "The condition in the consumers' accounts in this department (waterworks) is anything but satisfactory. Instructions were given by the waterworks committee in June of last year to have a similar system to that of the electric light set up. The necessary books and forms were provided therefore but the new records appear to have been written up in a rather careless and haphazard manner."

"I regret having to refer again to the matter of changing audited figures."

"More care should be exercised in the matter of distributing expenses in order to eliminate numerous journal entries which have been made necessary because of errors in writing up the cash disbursement book."

Trusting this will clarify the actions taken by the town council. (Signed) Dr. E. J. Henderson, Ross Linton, A. J. Willson.

WE WANT THE TRUTH

Neither the voters of Aurora nor this paper will be misled by council's effort to confuse, with personal attacks, the council's handling of affairs in connection with the clerk's office.

Neither the attempted belittlement of the former clerk, nor of this writer, excuses council for its failure to conduct its affairs in an orderly, competent and business-like manner.

In other words, we still want the truth . . . and council still seems to be reluctant to give it.

The Era has asked: "Can the council show a statement from the auditor to the effect that he desired, or even contemplated, such a change? Or have they a mandate from the people for making such a change?"

AUDITOR SUGGESTED ASSISTANT

The only answer comes in a letter from the auditor himself, stating his surprise at council's action, and saying that he did not think the new arrangement which was then planned was the proper method to get efficiency in the clerk's office. He suggested the proper method would be to hire an assistant for Mr. Andrews.

When the auditor found that a decision had already been made and carried into effect, he asked that his letter be withdrawn, because, obviously, he did not want to be on record as opposing action of council. This second letter does not alter the first, which expressed disapproval of the plan, and which was written following his submission of the auditor's report.

Definitely then, the council cannot point to the auditor for backing in making the change in clerkship.

WHY WAS BY-LAW RUSHED?

And any chance of getting an opinion by the people was deliberately and knowingly destroyed when the "group of five" rushed through the three readings of the by-law appointing the new clerk, at one meeting—and before any opinion could be expressed in a possible contest for mayor.

Lacking support from either public or auditor, we still ask, "Why was the former clerk dismissed?"

Mr. Wilson is on record as saying that Mr. Andrews is no accountant. Mr. Wilson is also on record as saying that he recommended Mr. Willis, although he did not know him personally, because Mr. Willis was of good reputation and was an accountant.

QUALIFICATIONS (?) FOR CLERK

Mr. Farr adds to Mr. Willis' recommendation with the statement that Mr. Willis was a member of the town band, had once played tennis and badminton, and sang in the music festival . . . "What more could you ask of a man in the way of interest in municipal affairs?"

In a sense, neither Mr. Willis nor Mr. Andrews are accountants, but both are bookkeepers. Did council get the auditor's opinion of Mr. Willis' ability? Why not?

WHY AVOID APPLICATIONS?

Was Mr. Wilson aware, when he recommended Mr. Willis, that there were others of greater bookkeeping experience right here in Aurora? If not, why didn't he suggest, instead, that the office be thrown open for applications? In the second place, we still ask, if a change in the clerkship was desirable.

Why was the new clerk appointed in such a manner? Was the rush an effort to avoid public criticism or to avoid embarrassing applications?

COUNCIL UNFAIR TO MR. WILLIS

From what we know of Mr. Willis, he is of first-class character, and we feel genuinely sorry that actions of council should have placed him in a position of public controversy at a time when he is ill. We can see no reason for council's haste. They could have— if they had wished to consider Mr. Willis especially—waited until he had returned to health.

AND AGAIN -- WHY THE RUSH?

We must ask again: why should there be a rush to appoint a man who is not yet able to assume the responsibilities of clerkship? Why did council appoint a man on April 4, to assume duties on April 10, when the advertisement in a Toronto paper stated that applications would be considered up until noon of April 12, and when the man appointed could not possibly assume his duties until May 12 or perhaps June 12?

Were they so certain that Mr. Willis was the man for the job, that they could not wait?

ORDERLY CONDUCT, PLEASE

Again The Era makes a plea for the orderly conduct of public business and the fair treatment of civic employees. The town clerkship is a "career job." The man who has held the job for 12 years, after seven years experience in council, and made himself an authority on municipal practice should not be discarded without just cause.

CLERK UNPOPULAR . . . OF COURSE!

It is not enough to say that he has made some bad friends in the course of carrying out his duties—often unpleasant duties. If during 12 years service in collecting taxes, water and light rates, and conveying to members of the public the ultimatums of committees of the council, he had not made some bad friends, then there would be reason to know that he had not been carrying out his duties, that he had not served the town well.

HE TAKES THE RAP FOR COUNCIL

Every efficient town or township clerk makes bad friends, and few experienced councillors will not admit that they have themselves at one time or another contributed to their municipal clerk's unpopularity either by careless shifting or criticism from themselves to the clerk or by failure to defend the clerk from unjust criticism. Municipal councillors must have someone to take the blame, and the clerk and treasurer is the man or men to take it.

Experienced, thinking, municipal men realize that upon their clerk and treasurer falls all the dislike of all the people who owe money to the corporation or find it difficult to pay, and they play the blame, but in council they stand behind him. They don't discharge him because he has borne the town or township's burdens.

LEARN FROM THE HOCKEY CLUB

Experienced municipal men are good sports. They play the game fairly. Let us in Aurora do the same. We have won a championship this year, and brought lustre to our town, with good sportsmanship. Let's not destroy it all with a piece of poor sportsmanship in the conduct of our municipal affairs.

Council Ought To Resign, Let Voters Speak, Says Malloy

AUDITOR'S LETTER, READ AT MEETING, TESTIFIES TO INTEGRITY OF M. L. ANDREWS

CHARLIE MCCARTHY AMONG NOMINEES

No one was anxious, or even willing, to take the chair vacated by George Baldwin, at the head of Aurora's 1939 council, it was shown at the nomination meeting on Tuesday night, when no one qualified for the job.

Dr. C. R. Boulding, M.O.H., Reeve J.A. Knowles and Councillor A. J. Wilson, were nominated, apparently only to give them an opportunity to speak to the meeting, as resignations would have been involved in all three cases, before they could have qualified for election.

Charles A. Malloy, also nominated, was not present at the meeting. "I haven't the slightest intention of accepting the nomination," Mr. Malloy told The Era the following day. "In my opinion, under the present conditions, all remaining members of council should resign, and be guided by the voice of the people whom they represent."

This procedure, it has since been learned, would add little to the burden of the ratepayers, as a new nomination meeting must be called, and both mayor and council could be elected at the same time.

"Changing audited figures in three different years," as referred to in the Aurora Banner in connection with the former clerk, cast a reflection on himself and council in previous years, ex-Mayor Dr. C. R. Boulding told the meeting, and he had asked the auditor for an explanation.

He read a letter from the auditor, written in reply, stating that there was no reflection on any member of council, or on the honesty and integrity of M. L. Andrews. The auditor expressed the opinion that his reports and letters were being used as a "buffer."

Councillor A. J. Wilson, first called on to address the nomination meeting, expressed his wish to defer to Dr. C. R. Boulding. "I will speak later," he stated.

"There are quite a number here tonight, for some reason," Dr. Boulding commented. "It is not my purpose to re-hash the events of the last few weeks."

"There was a statement put out by certain members of council last week, covering reasons for the change in clerkship. One remark affects the previous regime of council."

Dr. Boulding referred to the statement concerning audited figures being changed over a period of three years.

"To me that seemed an unfair statement to put in any place without any modification or further explanation," he stated. "It affects my time as mayor. It would mean that I should have known about it, or, if I did not know, that I was not on my job."

"This matter was known by every member of last year's council. It was brought up for discussion in council," Dr. Boulding stated, explaining that he had taken the matter up with the auditor and had received a letter in reply.

"I shall read this letter for one purpose only," Dr. Boulding said. "In my mind it is a principle of British justice that a man is not guilty until he is proven so. When you put a statement like that in the paper, what does it mean to the rank and file of people?"

He stated that the changing of auditor's figures would be taken by most people as an action done to deceive.

"I say this is absolutely wrong," the ex-mayor declared. "I hold no brief for anyone, but I am going to keep my name as clean as I can keep it."

"I told the auditor how it placed me and he wrote me a letter under date of April 24."

He read a letter from the auditor, Mr. Hilborn.

"If any dishonest action has been suggested in these reports, I fail to see it," the letter said in part. "As for you contending any such thing, the idea is far-fetched."

"I don't wish to get into a letter-writing contest, and I hope I shall not be drawn any further into this controversy as I fear that up to the present time I have been somewhat used as a 'buffer,' continued the letter.

"I have no intention of running for mayor," Dr. Boulding concluded. "I hope matters will soon be straightened and that the town will carry on with the business on hand for this year."

C. A. Malloy was called upon next, but he was not present at the meeting.

"I have had the acting-mayorship several times," Reeve J. A. Knowles stated when he was called upon to speak. "These present at the last few meetings of council know the unfortunate predicament I was in. You saw by the press what happened. You who were there saw first-hand."

The reeve said he had not resigned as reeve, so that he could not be a candidate.

"The decision has very well explained the matter of changing audited figures," the reeve continued. "Had I known he would have come prepared to discuss it and other matters. It is not necessary to make any other statement. It has been discussed in council and written up in the press."

Councillor A. J. Wilson also de-

HONESTY UNQUESTIONED

No dishonest action had been suggested in his reports, Auditor M. Hilborn stated in a letter read by Dr. C. R. Boulding at the nomination meeting on Tuesday night. The letter was used to clear away any implication against the integrity of the former clerk and former council.

elined the nomination, and referred to Dr. Boulding's statements. "I sincerely agree with Dr. Boulding," Mr. Wilson stated. "If the public has taken the wrong meaning from an excerpt from the auditor's report, which was put in the press, it is very unfortunate. It was not our intention that any such meaning be placed on them."

Firemen Hold Dance To Buy Brigade's Equipment

FAILURE OF COUNTY TO PROVIDE FUNDS DOESN'T STOP BRIGADE

Rubber boots don't last forever, members of the Schomberg Fire Brigade find, and when county commissioners couldn't see their way clear to replace the boots and coats purchased for the brigade some ten years ago, the firemen decided to do something about it themselves.

The "something" took the form of a firefighters' dance held in Schomberg on Wednesday evening of last week. The firemen had the support of the W.I., led by Mrs. E. J. Pearson, president, and Mrs. E. Smith, secretary, who helped the firemen by organizing the ladies of the district in providing refreshments for the evening.

The dance was a great success, Mrs. Gladstone Lloyd, who is also Schomberg's postmaster, told The Era last week. More than 300 tickets were sold, Mr. Lloyd estimated.

The brigade hopes to be able to afford a gas mask, Mr. Lloyd stated. This piece of equipment, he says, will enable a man to go into a basement fire or smoke-filled room and attack the fire at its source, before it gets a chance to spread.

Additional hose for the fire truck, which is the same type of pumper as the one in Aurora, is also necessary, it is said. The brigade has to rely for its water chiefly on the creek running through the village, and for eight months of the year this is, in some places, a doubtful source of supply, Mr. Lloyd says.

The fire chief thinks that if the chemical tanks could be put on a trailer attached to the truck, the brigade's efficiency would be increased. The chemical tanks could then be unhitched immediately on arrival at a fire, he explained, and would probably last until the pumper could be connected by hose to the source of water.

The brigade has offered to make the trailer and do any work necessary if the county will pay for material, the chief said, but so far it doesn't look as if the county is willing to do this.

The firefighters went to work on two serious fires in the immediate past. One was the creamery fire in December, 1938, which the firemen managed to hold down to the extent that the damage suffered was mostly from water, amounting to $700. The other fire broke out in the basement of the Anglican church in January, when what might have been a $10,000 fire resulted in damage of only about $1,000, most of which was due from smoke.

EVERESLEY TALKS ON WORK OF CITY NEWSPAPER

Spring at last, but tardy still. We're longing for the daffodil. The back roads are firming and soon will be safe again for cars. This district presents a group of lakes seen only at this season of the year.

The flu still has its victims. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wells had an attack last week. Surely when the sun gets in its work, the germs will be no more.

Mr. and Mrs. Hellewell, with Howard, Shirley and baby Ruth, are moving into the flat at "Scots Wha Hae" this week, hoping to become tenants at "The Pines," later. Mr. Hellewell is gardening assistant to Mr. Whytock at Eaton Hall farm.

Everesley Young People's Society held a musical night at the home of Mrs. D. M. Ross on Monday night. The scripture talk was given by Miss A. A. Ferguson on the death of Aaron—the end of Israel's wanderings and the plague of the fiery serpents and the remedy.

Musical numbers were a vocal duet by Selina and June Mesley; piano solo by Mrs. Pitt and a piano duet by Mrs. Pitt and Frances Ross. A very interesting talk on the life and work of "Beach" was given by Rev. M. E. Burch.

The very important part of the program was given by Jos. Beaulere, one of the staff of the Toronto Star, on the making of a great newspaper. His topic was the slogan, "Hands that keep the world employed," and truly the work of that great undertaking—these editions of the Star daily—means the employment of a small army of newsgatherers over much of the world, and the many mechanical devices used in the collecting, printing and distributing of the paper.

Mr. Beaulere learned his duties in Peterboro, but for some years has been employed by the Star, where he handles news items, condensing, selecting and polishing the news into the space required. His presentation of the work was very interesting and instructive. Mr. Beaulere lives north of Everesley and motors to and from his work in Toronto daily.

Mrs. Ransom visited her brother, Duncan Sinclair, in a Toronto hospital on Wednesday, Mr. Sinclair has been very ill for a long time.

On Wednesday afternoon Everesley W.M.S. met at the home of the president at "Scots Wha Hae." The attendance was very small for this Easter thank-offering. Rev. M. E. Burch gave a very helpful Easter talk. The program as prepared was given, with the prayer service. Miss Ferguson read "Sundays," and "Mrs. Morgan's Quarter," a missionary story. A social tea hour concluded the service.

Every Five Minutes
Jones and his wife had just arrived at the docks at Southampton. "Excuse me, my good man," said the next boat leave for Australia?" "Why, in half an hour's time, sir," replied the dock hand. "Oh, dear, oh, dear, isn't there one before that?"

PLEASANTVILLE
FOUR PRESIDENTS ARE NAMED FOR INSTITUTE

Mrs. Roy Arnold and two children, of Queensville, spent Wednesday with Mrs. M. Starr and Mrs. F. Hawtin.
There was a very good attendance at the Institute meeting last Wednesday at Bogartown schoolhouse. An election of officers was held. A quartette of presidents resulted, as no one lady would consent to take the office for one year. Each lady named has a term for three months: Mrs. A. M. Colville, Mrs. Elmer Starr, Mrs. F.
Williams and Mrs. B. Dike; secretaries, Mrs. Gordon McClure.
Miss Mazo Ostley was in charge of the program. Current events were read by Miss S. McQueen, prepared by Mrs. McLean. A paper on legislation for women was prepared by Miss L. Starr and read by Miss Ostley.

On Friday night of last week
the members of the chautauqui party, neighbors and friends, garthered at the schoolhouse and spent a social evening to welcome Francis Sheridan and his bride. After games, etc., Roy Harper read the address, while Eddie Willis presented the newlyweds with a lovely lamp. Francis Starr acted as chairman for the evening.
Mr. and Mrs. L. Harper entertained Mr. and Mrs. N. Crone of Sharon, Mrs. Soules of Toronto,
Mr. Fleming Young of Newmarket and Miss Doris Penrose, on April 29, for tea, on the occasion of Miss Gladys Harper's birthday anniversary.

The Willing Workers will meet on Wednesday, May 3, at the home of Mrs. Toole.

VANDORF
MRS. A. RICHARDSON IS
NEW W. I. PRESIDENT

In spite of muddy roads, there was a good attendance at the Women's Institute meeting held at home of Mrs. Wm. McDonald last Wednesday. Mrs. C. Moynihan presided, and in the absence of Mrs. Wright, owing to the illness of her father, Mrs. R. Scott was acting secretary.

In answer to the roll-call, suggestions for quilting were not too numerous.
Mrs. Arthur Van Nostrand occupied the chair during the election of officers. Mrs. C. Moynihan retired from the president's office this year. The members appreciate her faithfulness and untiring efforts to help the Institute during her term of office.

The new president is Mrs. A.
Richardson. The success of any organization depends on the cooperation given the officers by each member. It is hoped that the Vandorf branch will grow bigger and better each year.

Other officers elected were: 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. Hennessey; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. G. Carr; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. Wright.
After the election of officers,
Mrs. Moynihan again took the chair. Mrs. Hudyma then exhibited a Ukrainian girl's dress, and two towels which she had made,
and told of some of the customs of that country. It was very interesting, and the embroidery work on the dress and towels made the ladies feel that their attempts at fancy work were not to be compared with the beautiful work done by Mrs. Hudyma. Mrs.
Hudyma will be glad to show anyone her work if they would like to call on her.

There was an exchange of slips,
seeds and bulbs, then the meeting closed by singing God Save the King, and refreshments were served by the hostesses.
Friends extend their very best wishes to Mrs. Nelson Hostwick, who celebrated her 87th birthday on Monday, April 24.

er during the winter months,

urday evening at 8 o'clock in the

Jones will be present. A good attendance is hoped for.

Last week the prayer meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Love and was ably led by Harry Knights, owing to the

The hotel was on fire. On a sixth-storey ledge stood a film actress, flames crackling about her. Below the firemen were hold-in agonized suspense. Finally a strained voice screamed:

"JUMP, lady—for heaven's sake!"
The great movie actress folded her arms in calm disdain.
"I'll do nothing of the sort," she answered. "Tell the director to

STILL PIONEERING

Leadership demands constant pioneering—discovering and developing the new and better method of doing the things we have to do.

Time was when the introduction of a new implement was a memorable and historic event, but those were the early days in the application of mechanics to farming operations. Today, changes succeed each other with greater rapidity and even the most revolutionary innovations are accepted with little acclaim.

Not in any period of the ninety years of Massey-Harris history has such skill been employed in the designing and developing of machines for the farm as there is today. The Company's engineers, in their extensive field experiments, are constantly testing new ideas and developing, under actual conditions, machines and attachments specifically suited to the requirements of the territory for which they are intended.

Thus, whether it be a one-handed walking plow to be used by a native, and even perhaps drawn by natives, on the South African veldt, a power-driven mower to cope with the luxuriant growth of grass on an English meadow, or the One-Way Disc Seeder developed to help the farmer on the prairies of Western Canada combat soil drifting, it is the result of definite scientific research by the Company's field engineers.

And in the motorized mechanization that is taking place in farming operations, Massey-Harris is in the forefront, still pioneering in bringing to farmers the latest developments in Tractors, Combines and other power equipment.

MOUNT ALBERT MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY IS HONORED

On Wednesday evening, April 12, 45 friends and neighbors from Churchill gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Rolling, Mount Albert, and presented Mrs. Robert Clement with a lovely lounge chair. Mrs. Clement has recently come to make her home in Mount Albert. The following address, signed on behalf of her friends and neighbors by Allan Todd and Kenneth Sturgeon, was read to Mrs. Clement and family by Orville E. Todd, reeve of Innisfil township.

"More than a century ago, stout-hearted pioneers settled in that part of Simcoe county which we all know as Innisfil and West Gwillimbury townships. They endured many hardships, but by their industry and courage, they created for themselves homes from the virgin forest. "Foremost of these pioneers to settle on the 'Second Line' was the Clement family, and in the many intervening years the name of Clement has always been closely identified with the life and welfare of the community.

"It is with sincere regret that we realize that the associations of long standing have been changed, but we feel sure that the traditions of this fine, old family will be established and maintained in their new place of residence.

"We wish to extend to you, Mrs. Clement, and to your family, our best wishes for many years of happiness and as an expression of our esteem, we ask you to accept this gift."

Following the presentation, eulogie was enjoyed by all present. A delightful lunch brought the evening to a close.

The Horticultural Society are being fortunate in getting "Dick, the Amateur Gardener," to speak to them on Friday, May 5, in the town hall. Any questions anyone would like to have answered, bring along. Everybody is welcome to this free illustrated lecture.
